

Prometeon Tyre Egypt equips Alexandria Fever Hospital with full-fledged operating room to support COVID-19 healthcare

Cairo, Egypt, 10 May 2020,

Prometeon Tyre Egypt, the sole global industrial tyre manufacturer in the country, today announced it is donating a ventilator and medical equipment to set up full-fledged operating room at the Alexandria Fever Hospital in support of national efforts to provide the best healthcare possible against the spread of COVID-19 at the prominent quarantine facilities across the country.

Based on a needs assessment conversation with the management of the hospital, Prometeon Tyre Egypt directed its contribution to install advanced medical equipment, including a ventilator, autoclave, AC units, blood pressure monitors and various logistical elements to set up a well-established operating room, along with its extension. This comes as part of Prometeon Tyre Group's global efforts to support the COVID-19 healthcare workers.

Antonio Dolgetta, CEO Egypt at Prometeon Tyre Group comments: "It's our role as an established manufacturing investor in Egypt to do our best and go the extra mile to support Egypt's White Army during these critical times, especially the frontliners. We are proud to take part in supporting the Alexandria Fever Hospital for its prominent role as a quarantine medical facility during the outbreak of COVID-19."

"At Prometeon Tyre Egypt, we focus on growing the sense of social responsibility within the work environment. That's why we launched "Together", an internal initiative to encourage all of our 1,200 employees to donate by contributing a number of their working hours to support the Alexandria Fever Hospital project. Going beyond the call of duty is what we all should strive for to provide maximum support to our community," added Antonio.

Amal El-Brens, General Manager of Fever Hospital in Alexandria says: "We are delighted to collaborate with Prometeon Tyre Egypt for the willingness they showed to support the medical sector. The operations room will be extremely beneficial currently in supporting the developments of COVID-19 cases, and will be sustainable in the long term. I am personally proud to see different entities and institutions striving to make a positive impact."
