

President El Sisi Speaks with U.S. President Trump

President Abdel Fattah El Sisi received a phone call from U.S. President Donald Trump last night. President Trump underscored the robust friendship relations between Egypt and the U.S., and confirmed his keenness on continuing to further advance relations between the two countries as well as overcoming any hurdles that might affect them.

President El Sisi expressed his appreciation for President Trump and reiterated the need to continue intensive coordination and consultation between the two countries on all issues of mutual concern so as to enhance the strategic Egyptian-American relations and realize the interests of the two peoples.
